619755

25X1

25X1

25X1

25X1 25X1

25X1

25X1 25X1

25X1

25X1 25X1 25X1

25X1

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

INFORMATION REPORT

This material contains information affecting the National Designes of the United States within the meaning of the Espionage Laws, Title 18. U.S.C. Secs. 793 and 794, the transmission or revelation of which in any manner to an unauthorized person is prohibited by law.

10 Cont owhere 1054	OUNTRY	USSR	REPORT
This is UNEVALUATED The Source evaluations in this regent are definitive. The ROSSIYA is a diesel-powered luxury passenger liner which plies between Odessa and various other Black Sea ports. The ROSSIYA is often used by high-level Soviet officials. Berlya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on board the ROSSIYA at different times. Voroshilov was accompanied by six plain-clothes bodyguards, while Berlya had many more. Wherever he went, Kaganovich had four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large group behind him, even on board ship. The Possiya is often used by high-level Soviet officials. Berlya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich and four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large group behind him, even on board ship. The plain clothes bodyguards as tall well-built men between the ages of twenty and thirty. At uil times the bodyguards kept their hands in their pockets, which bulged with large objects. assumed that these large objects were guns. The one of the bodyguards eating in a restaurant, in Odessa. The other persons in the restaurant were tense. No one sat near the bodyguard and all conversation ceased while he was in the restaurant. When the guard finished his meal, he did not pay for it but flashed a card and walked out. The waiter just bowed and stammered. The plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. The plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. The plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. The plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. The plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old.	UBJECT		Soviets	1 4
The Source evaluations in this report are definitive. The APPRAISAL of Content is Tentative. The ROSSIYA is a diesel-powered luxury passenger liner which plies between Odessa and various other Black Sea ports. The ROSSIYA is often used by high-level Soviet officials. Beriya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on board the ROSSIYA at different times. Voroshilov was accompanied by six plain-clothes bodyguards, while Beriya had many more. Wherever he went, Kaganovich had four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large go oup behind him, even on board ship. 3. between the ages of twenty and thirty. At will times the bodyguards kept their hands in their pockets, which bulged with large objects. assumed that these large objects were gume. 4. createurant in Odessa. The other persons in the restaurant were tense. No one sat near the bodyguard and all conversation ceased while he was in the restaurant. When the guard finished his meal, he did not pay for it but flashed a card and walked out. The waiter just bowed and stammered. 5. the plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. they received no pay but they could obtain anything they wanted by means of their special card and the element of fear.	ATE OF INFO		REQUIREMENT NO. RD
THE SOURCE EVALUATIONS IN THIS REPORT ARE DEFINITIVE. The APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE. The ROSSIYA is a diesel-powered luxury passenger liner which plies between Odessa and various other Black Sea ports. The ROSSIYA is often used by high-level Soviet officials. Beriya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on board the ROSSIYA at different times. Voroshilov was accompanied by six plain-clothes bodyguards, while Beriya had many more. Wherever he went, Kaganovich had four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large group behind him, even on board ship. The plain clothes bodyguards as tall well-built men between the ages of twenty and thirty. At all times the bodyguards kept their hands in their pockets, which bulged with large objects. assumed that these large objects were guns. The other persons in the restaurant were tense. No one sat near the bodyguard and all conversation ceased while he was in the restaurant. When the guard finished his meal, he did not pay for it but flashed a card and walked out. The waiter just bowed and stammered. The plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. The value of they wanted by means of their special card and the element of fear.	LACE ACQUIR	EĎ	REFERENCES
The ROSSIYA is a diesel-powered luxury passenger liner which plies between Odessa and various other Black Sea ports. 2. The ROSSIYA is often used by high-level Soviet officials. Berriya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on board the ROSSIYA at different times. Voroshilov was accompanied by six plain-clothes bodyguards, while Berrya had many more. Wherever he went, Kaganovich had four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large group behind him, even on board ship. 3. the plain clothes bodyguards as tall well-built men between the ages of twenty and thirty. At all times the bodyguards kept their hands in their pockets, which bulged with large objects. assumed that these large objects were guns. 4. one of the bodyguards eating in a restaurant in Odessa. The other persons in the restaurant were tense. No one sat near the bodyguard and all conversation ceased while he was in the restaurant. When the guard finished his meal, he did not pay for it but flashed a card and walked out. The waiter just bowed and stammered. 5. the plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. they received no pay but they could obtain anything they wanted by means of their special card and the element of fear.	·			5
The ROSSIYA is a diesel-powered luxury passenger liner which plies between Odessa and various other Black Sea ports. 2. The ROSSIYA is often used by high-level Soviet officials. Beriya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on board the ROSSIYA at different times. Voroshilov was accompanied by six plain-clothes bodyguards, while Beriya had many more. Wherever he went, Kaganovich had four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large group behind him, even on board ship. 3. the plain clothes bodyguards as tall well-built men between the ages of twenty and thirty. At all times the bodyguards kept their hands in their pockets, which bulged with large objects. assumed that these large objects were guns. 4. one of the bodyguards eating in a restaurant in Odessa. The other persons in the restaurant were tense. No one sat near the bodyguard and all conversation ceased while he was in the restaurant. When the guard finished his meal, he did not pay for it but flashed a card and walked out. The waiter just bowed and stammered. 5. the plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. they received no pay but they could obtain anything they wanted by means of their special card and the element of fear.		THE APPRAISAL OF CONTENT	S TENTATIVE.
The ROSSIYA is a diesel-powered luxury passenger liner which plies between Odessa and various other Black Sea ports. 2. The ROSSIYA is often used by high-level Soviet officials. Beriya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on board the ROSSIYA at different times. Voroshilov was accompanied by six plain-clothes bodyguards, while Beriya had many more. Wherever he went, Kaganovich had four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large group behind him, even on board ship. 3	_
Beriya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on board the ROSSIYA at different times. Voroshilov was accompanied by six plain-clothes bodyguards, while Beriya had many more. Wherever he went, Kaganovich had four guards preceding him, several on each side of him, and a large group behind him, even on board ship. 3.		The ROSSIYA is a diesel-pow	ered luxury passenger liner which between the ages of twenty and thirty. At all times the bodyguards kept their hands in their pockets, which bulged with large objects. assumed that these large objects were guns. 4. One of the bodyguards eating in a restaurant in Odessa. The other persons in the restaurant were tense. No one sat near the bodyguard and all conversation ceased while he was in the restaurant. When the guard finished his meal, he did not pay for it but flashed a card and walked out. The waiter just bowed and stammered. 5. the plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. they received no pay but they could obtain anything they wanted by means of their special card and the element of fear.	Be Vo	riya, Voroshilov, and Kaganovich on boa roshilov was accompanied by six plain-	rd the ROSSIYA at different times.
restaurant in Odessa. The other persons in the restaurant were tense. No one sat near the bodyguard and all conversation ceased while he was in the restaurant. When the guard finished his meal, he did not pay for it but flashed a card and walked out. The waiter just bowed and stammered. 5. the plain clothes bodyguards were selected and put in training when they were seven years old. they received no pay but they could obtain anything they wanted by means of their special card and the element of fear.	se	d many more. Wherever he went, Kagano veral on each side of him, and a large	vich had four guards preceding him, in training when they were seven years old. they received no pay but they could obtain anything they wanted by means of their special card and the element of fear.	se sh	d many more. Wherever he went, Kagano veral on each side of him, and a large ip. the plain clothes botween the ages of twenty and thirty. Leir hands in their pockets, which bulge	dyguards as tall well-built men At all times the bodyguards kept d with large objects.
SECRET - U.S. OFFICIALS ONLY	se sh 3. be th as 4. re	d many more. Wherever he went, Kagano veral on each side of him, and a large ip. the plain clothes bo tween the ages of twenty and thirty. eir hands in their pockets, which bulge sumed that these large objects were gu one o estaurant in Odessa. The other persons one sat near the bodyguard and all co the restaurant. When the guard finis	dyguards as tall well-built men At all times the bodyguards kept d with large objects. f the bodyguards eating in a in the restaurant were tense. nversation ceased while he was hed his meal, he did not pay for
SECRET - U.S. OFFICIALS ONLY	3. be the as 4. re No in it	the plain clothes bo tween the ages of twenty and thirty. the plain clothes bo tween the ages of twenty and thirty. their hands in their pockets, which bulge sumed that these large objects were gu one of the restaurant in Odessa. The other persons of the restaurant. When the guard finis to but flashed a card and walked out. The plain clothes training when they were seven years of they could obta	dyguards as tall well-built men At all times the bodyguards kept d with large objects. f the bodyguards eating in a in the restaurant were tense. nversation ceased while he was hed his meal, he did not pay for he waiter just bowed and stammered. s bodyguards were selected and put ld. in anything they wanted by means
	3. be the as 4. re No in it	the plain clothes bo tween the ages of twenty and thirty. the plain clothes bo tween the ages of twenty and thirty. their hands in their pockets, which bulge sumed that these large objects were gu one of the restaurant in Odessa. The other persons of the restaurant. When the guard finis to but flashed a card and walked out. The plain clothes training when they were seven years of they could obta	dyguards as tall well-built men At all times the bodyguards kept d with large objects. f the bodyguards eating in a in the restaurant were tense. nversation ceased while he was hed his meal, he did not pay for he waiter just bowed and stammered. s bodyguards were selected and put ld. in anything they wanted by means

Approved For Release 2007/07/20 : CIA-RDP80-00810A004800670010-8

